PROFILE

I am a second year architecture student. I understand the importance of design, graphics, and principles. Sketches and write-ups are the two ways I currently do it. I quickly adapt to changes and new ideas, but I am also aware of when to stick with the ones I have. I am open to constructive criticism and know how to take it well. Also as a fairly new addition to the field of architecture, I am looking to extend my network and meet and have a chance to interact with as many new perspectives as possible.
